PENINSULAR AND ORIENTAL COMPANY.

QUARANTINE IN EGYPTIAN AND CONTINENTAL PORTS.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for PASSING the Company's steamers THROUGH THE SUEZ CANAL in QUARANTINE, thus avoiding any detention in Egypt.

The HOMEWARD MAILS are now being landed at VENICE, but the Quarantine, which is still imposed at this and all other Continental Ports, PREVENTS the landing of PASSENGERS, and the QUICKEST route by which they can reach England is to proceed to PLYMOUTH DIRECT.

The passages of the steamers will continue to be accelerated as much as possible. The last four steamers have made the voyage from Bombay to Plymouth in 25 days. Until the Continental route is again open, passengers taking three-monthly Return Tickets will be allowed an extension of a fortnight, if required.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 14.

On the London Stock Exchange Rupee Securities and the Indian Sterling Loan are unchanged, but three per cent. Consols and French Rentes are each ¼ higher, the respective closing quotations being 100⅛ and 109½. Money continues easy. A payment of about £100,000 into the Bank of England is just advised.

In the General Produce Markets, the prices for Wheat to arrive and Guzerat Rapeseed on the spot are quoted rather lower. There is no change in other descriptions of produce.

The Goat Skin sales yesterday opened with a fair demand, and full prices for "fair" to "good" qualities, but rather cheaper, for the common and inferior qualities 840,000 Goat and 290,000 Sheep Skins were offered.

The Manchester Piece-goods Market is firmer.

The Liverpool Cotton Market yesterday closed firmer: Surats also firm: Arrivals quiet. Spot prices show no alteration. Middling-Uplands in New York are unchanged, but futures for the month of November are quoted two points lower, say 10·11 cents. The figures to date are given below:—

BOMBAY ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY.—We are glad to learn that the whole of the share capital of this Company has been subscribed, a considerable portion of the same having been taken up in London. The Company will now have every opportunity of developing a system of lighting well adapted for this country.

COTTON.—The firmer tone of the Liverpool market has not led to any improvement in the demand here, and no important transactions have come to our notice. Prices, however, close firm. The weather reports to hand from Akola state that the break is more than was looked for, and the later sowings which at first suffered from too much wet, are now threatened from want of it. Should it not rain within a few days, the crop estimates will have to be reduced. Food crops are so far better, but must also suffer if the rains do not soon set in. We quote:—

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be overrated; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, we have the highest medical authority, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight; and as no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate, based on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is proved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Menist, we are not only in a position to suit the eye sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1883.

WE are glad to say that the proposal to pass a law in the Bombay Legislative Council, compelling all villagers to turn out en masse and kill locusts, has been definitely abandoned. However necessary it may be to exert every agency in the destruction of these devastating insects, the proposal we have referred to was open to such serious objection that one feels surprised it was ever made. It is well known that by the end of October at the latest all the young locusts will be full grown and perfectly strong on the wing. It would be useless then to turn out the population in pursuit of them, because they would be quite beyond the reach of their pursuers. Probably the supporters of exceptional legislation of this character would say that a Bill should have been cut and dry ready to pass and come into operation on July 1, as from then till October the locusts are only hoppers and cannot fly away. But, unfortunately, at that time, the crops thickly cover the ground, and it is as difficult to find a needle in a bundle of hay as these lively animals in a field when the grass, jowari, and bajree are a foot high or more. A singular illustration of the difficulty of dealing with young locusts has been discovered. In a field where it was known hundreds of thousands of locusts' eggs had been deposited early in June, a careful search was made at the end of July; and though it is perfectly certain that there were millions of hoppers in the field, only a dozen or two could be found because the crops were so high and thick. If this search was made by intelligent people, it is a most surprising and alarming circumstance. If these insects have such a faculty of secreting themselves, by what means are they to be exterminated? Unless they are destroyed in this stage, they will take wing, and be practically out of reach. But whatever means be adopted, the impressment of the population is not a practical scheme. Apart from the natural difficulties in the way of the project, it is absurd to think of fining a man ten rupees who has not a farthing in the world, his whole substance having been eaten up, for not aiding in the slaughter of the pests which have ruined him. Then we must not forget that there will probably be thousands of people in this position, and that it would be an utter impossibility to send all the defaulter to jail. We need say nothing about the offence to the prejudices of many classes in this country which would certainly be occasioned by compelling them to take life against their conviction. These prejudices though they may appear stupid to us, are, nevertheless, strongly implanted in the minds of the natives of this country. Altogether the scheme would have caused numerous difficulties for which no compensation was likely to be obtained in the way of locust extermination.

IN a recent batch of Standing Orders by the Commander-in-Chief in India, we find the following regulations with reference to native officers and men of over thirty-two years' service, which will, we imagine, be read with some surprise by officers in this Presidency. The regulations we refer to run as follows:—

Para. 321 B.—General officers are required at their annual inspections of regiments to see personally all native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men who have completed thirty-two years' service, and to report to the Commander-in-Chief the names of any who are unfit to bear the hardships of active service in the field.

It will sometimes be found that native officers and non-commissioned officers of over thirty-two years' service still retain their bodily vigour and are quite fit for the performance of all military duties. Such men it is very desirable to retain, as their experience and example are valuable in a regiment; but it is equally important to ensure that all worn-out men are sent to the pension establishment. The selection of men, or retention in regiments, is left to the discretion of general officers in consultation with commandants of corps.

We give the order at length, because we were under the impression that thirty-two years was the extreme limit to which the native soldier, whether commissioned or not, might serve. In this Presidency it is so, at any rate. In the Bombay Army directly a sepoy or a subedar has completed his thirty-two years' service, application is at once made by the regimental authorities to head-quarters for the pension to which he then becomes entitled. Should the commanding officer of a regiment be desirous for any special reason to retain the services of a native officer who has completed thirty-two years' service, he must obtain the express sanction of the Commander-in-Chief. In Bengal the theory seems to be that many native officers and non-commissioned officers may do excellent service after they have put in their thirty-two years; in Bombay the idea appears to obtain that after that period it is not advisable to retain any native soldier, whether sepoy or subedar. We cannot understand how it is that there is one regulation in the Bengal Presidency on this important matter, and another in Bombay. In other words, there seems no good reason why in the Bombay Army retirement should be compulsory after thirty-two years, and optional in that of Bengal. We confess that we think the Bombay method the best. After all the complaints that have been made about native commissioned and non-commissioned officers being kept on in regiments when they are old and past doing any work, it seems only reasonable that at some fixed period they should be made to retire. The method pursued in the Bombay Army is strict but salutary, and there is no hardship involved. When a native officer, or any one lower in rank, has served for thirty-two years, he is entitled to his full pension, and if he served on another ten years, he could never get a higher pension. By this means a steady flow of promotion is kept up in the native ranks, younger men are brought to the front, and old men are got rid of on terms highly advantageous to themselves. The Bengal system opens the door to that ma-bap system which before now has worked such mischief in the Native Army. Native officers are most unwilling to retire after thirty-two years, because the pay they are drawing is about double what their pension would be. Hence, were it optional with commanding officers in this Presidency, as in Bengal, to allow old native officers a further extension of service, they would be besieged with applications which would require a very firm commandant to refuse. So, on every ground, we consider that the hard-and-fast rule now obtaining in the Bombay Army is the best, and we think that the sooner it is introduced into the Bengal Army the better for all concerned.

The same issue of Bengal General Orders from which we have quoted contains a regulation which throws a curious light upon the habits of our native soldiery. It is this:—

Para. 681*a*.—Native officers, non-commissioned officers, and sepoys are forbidden to keep large sums of money (in cash or bank-notes) in the lines, and should be directed to deposit their savings in the Government Savings Bank.

This rule may perhaps be thought superfluous by those ignorant of the inner life of a native regiment, and they might smile at the idea of wealth concealed in the huts in which the various ranks are lodged. But, strange though it may seem, it is not at all uncommon for a subedar to amass from ten to twenty thousand rupees, a great part of which he turns into jewels and articles of value, which he buries under the floor of his hut. If it be asked how a man who never draws more than about two hundred rupees a month, and whose ordinary pay as a subedar is only one hundred rupees, can possibly amass so much money, we answer that it is not only possible, but frequently happens. There are some sepoys who save from the day they enter the service on seven rupees a month. They live on five, and when they have accumulated a little capital, they lend it out to less thrifty comrades. As they rise in the regiment and become successively naik, havildar, jamedar, and subedar, so they save more and more, while they maintain the same penurious style of living; and the bajree bread that contented the recruit when he was bent on saving two rupees a month out of seven, still contents the subedar as he puts by ninety out of his hundred rupees monthly pay. We do not say that native officers lend money in their regiment

THE HOMEWARD MAILS.

THE P. and O. Company have received a telegram stating that the s. s. Gwalior, which left Bombay on the 7th instant, arrived at Aden at 4 a. m. on Tuesday.

MR. J. H. GRANT has been appointed Collector of Bombay. The fears of the service that Mr. Hart or Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee would deprive them of a comfortable berth are therefore groundless.

MR. P. PETERSON, M.A., Professor of Oriental Languages at the Elphinstone College, who left for Europe by yesterday's mail steamer, has been commissioned by Government to attend the Oriental Congress at Leyden.

WE hear that Rao Saheb Gunputrao Moroba Pitale acts as Registrar to the Bombay University during the absence of Mr. Peterson.

MR. J. R. DUXBURY, General Traffic Manager, B. B. and C. I. Railway, was a passenger by yesterday's mail-steamer.

GENERAL MALLABY, Commanding the Bombay District, acts as Grand Master of all Scottish Freemasonry in India during the absence of Captain Henry Morland, who left for England by yesterday's mail-steamer on three months' leave.

CAPTAIN DOWNING, late I. N., acts as Port Officer at Bombay during the absence on leave of Captain Morland.

THE Government steamer Amberwitch was docked yesterday morning, in order that the damage which she sustained during her cruise in search of the crew of the Knight of the Bath may be repaired.

MR. C. P. COOPER, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, gave his decision yesterday in regard to the charge of defamation brought by the Bombay agent of the Singer Manufacturing Company against Messrs. H. Geyer and Company, Rampart-row. His worship fined the accused Rs. 500.

LIEUT.-COLONEL HENDERSON, C.S.I., Superintendent of the Operations for the Suppression of Thuggee and Dacoity, returns to his post at Simla on the 25th of October; when, presumably, Mr. Lambert, who is said to have proved a very satisfactory Chief of the Department, will revert to his appointment at Calcutta.

As alarming reports have appeared in the Calcutta papers of an outbreak of cholera among the European troops in Allahabad, the local paper states that three mild cases, only, occurred some ten days ago in the Battery of Artillery stationed there. The European troops are enjoying exceptionally good health at the present time.

THE ringleaders in the disgraceful riot at Dehra by sowars in the Viceroy's Body-guard have been dismissed from the service.

THE Archdeacon of Lahore is getting up a petition against "the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill," and copies of it are being sent to stations in the Punjab for signature.

THE Bazaar held in London in behalf of the Lahore Cathedral realized nearly four hundred pounds.

THERE was an extraordinary scare the other day among the European inhabitants of Mussoorie. Some evil-disposed person, the Lahore paper says, had written an anonymous letter to Mr. Church, C.S., the Superintendent of the Dun, announcing that the Eed would be the occasion of a rising amongst the Mahomedans. The letter is supposed to have been written by Hindus, with a view to damaging the reputation of some Mahomedan trader or traders in the Landour bazaar. The story was foolishly or carelessly allowed to get abroad, and gave rise to a deal of nervousness.

THIS is a specimen of the amiable style of writing in which the Calcutta native journal Reis and Rayyet indulges:—"There is some talk of the Maharajah of Cooch Behar being made an Honorary Major of the 6th Bengal Cavalry. We have had enough of honorary nonsense and deceiving with children's toys, and have long been expecting something worthy of men. We have already honorary generals, but hardly a real subaltern. It is time enough for a number of our youths to be made cornets and ensigns or junior-lieutenants."

THE following particulars of the opinions of the Chief Commissioner and other officials of Assam on the Jurisdiction Bill are given by the Pioneer:—"It has been generally known for some time past that the Chief Commissioner of Assam had come to the conclusion that his vote with regard to the Criminal Procedure Bill should be given in favour of complete withdrawal. Mr. Elliott's opinion is supported by a really unanimous consensus on the part of the officers of the Province, every one of whom we believe, has reported against the Bill. By widely different paths they have all arrived at the same point, and they have given a solid vote for withdrawal. As for Mr. Elliott himself, the principal ground on which he recommends the abandonment of the measure is the opposition that it has aroused. He sees nothing which would lead him to suppose that abuses are likely to arise from the native administration of criminal justice, and his experience of the working of the Civil Courts tends rather to the contrary effect; but on the other hand he sees nothing to be gained in the way of administrative convenience by the change proposed, and he is persuaded that real administrative inconvenience, as well as injustice, would be caused by the disqualification of the European Deputy Magistrates for the Justiceship of the Peace. On the whole, as we understand it, Mr. Elliott's attitude is one of indifference towards the arguments that have been used either for or against the measure; but the angry agitation that has sprung up amongst the Europeans he treats as a tangible, palpable fact. He believes that the indignation has gone so far that nothing short of absolute withdrawal will appease it, and accordingly he would have the Government make the full concession, as the sure and only way of repairing the mischief."

THREE new additions have lately been made to the large fleet of steamers belonging to the British India Steam Navigation Company, Limited, viz., the s. s. Goalpara, Nowahera, and Nuddea. The following are the tonnage and dimensions of these three new vessels:—s. s. Goalpara, gross tonnage 2,114 tons, length 285 ft., breadth 36 ft. 2 in.; s. s. Nowshera, gross tonnage 2,962 tons, length 320 ft., breadth 42 ft. 2 in.; s. s. Nuddea, gross tonnage 2,977 tons, length 320 ft., breadth 42 ft. The last two vessels mentioned are sister ships, built of steel by Messrs. W. Denny and Brothers of Dumbarton, and engined by Denny & Co. with engines of 350 horse-power. The Goalpara has been built and engined by Messrs. A. & J. Inglis of Glasgow; she is also constructed of steel, and possesses engines of 200 horse-power.

THE Hindu of Madras writes:—We hear that letters were being circulated in the city through the Post Office. These letters purport to rouse people to false patriotism, and are replete with the most mischievous insinuations. The whole thing must be due to some evil-disposed person—an unquestionable enemy of the native community. We draw up to the attention of the authorities, and hope the mischief-maker will be brought to condign punishment.

FROM the prospectus which we published yesterday, it will be seen that the Deesa Race Meeting will commence on Oct. 16. The date of the meeting is midway between the Kattywar and the Rajputana Races, so that owners of stables going from the former to the latter can visit Deesa en route; and Deesa is conveniently situated for owners going up-country from Poona to stop and run their horses there.

THERE seems no reason, the Civil and Military Gazette remarks, "to doubt the report we published the other day, stating that a Russian had arrived at the Ameer Abdul Rahman's camp near Gundamuk. Some Russian subjects have been living in Kabul for some time past. The Government of India knows this perfectly well; and even knows the men's names. But the Russian who is at the Ameer's camp is probably a new arrival in Afghanistan. About a month ago it was stated in one of our trans-frontier letters that Sirdar Ishak Khan, the Governor of Afghan-Turkestan, was expecting a Russian friend whom he had known at Samarcand. On the 10th, again, we were able to give some account of the man, who had been interviewed by a trustworthy correspondent in Kabul. He is doubtless the man who has come on to the Ameer's camp."

THE Pioneer is in a position to state that the proposed canal from Kaifa on the Mediterranean, to Akabah on the Red Sea is being surveyed. "English engineers were at Jerusalem in January and February last, but were prevented leaving that place by Lord Dufferin, who saw that they would probably share the fate of Professor Palmer and his unfortunate companions. Retribution having overtaken the murderers of the Palmer party, the country is now safe. The engineers we mention are now surveying the route of the proposed canal, and we shall very soon hear of the result of their labours. If the canal be made by an English Company subsidised by Government, and we see no reason why it should not be made, 80 per cent. of the present traffic of the Suez Canal will be lost to M. de Lesseps, and England will possess a safe highway for her commerce to the East."

THE petitions of the European and Anglo-Indian communities of India against the Ilbert Bill, addressed to the House of Lords and Commons respectively, arrived in London on July 23. Mr. Pugh (Liberal member for Cardiganshire) on the next afternoon presented the petition to the House of Commons. It is signed by 14,626 persons. Many batches of signatures from the remoter out-stations had not arrived in Calcutta when the Indian petition was forwarded. A similar petition has been presented from Madras with 2,500 signatures.

A CORRESPONDENT of the St. James's Gazette says:—"In the year 1826 the regiment I then belonged to—the late 13th Bengal Native Infantry, was ordered from Cuttack to Upper Assam. On reaching the Brahmaputra we embarked in country boats to proceed to our destination. On our arrival at Goalpara, where we remained about a month, we had cholera amongst the men, who were divided into comparatively small numbers in each boat. We lost two or three men a day, and what is unusual, we did not save one man who was attacked. This lasted from ten days to a fortnight without intermission. At the end of that time we had a tremendous north-wester, so violent that it upset about one-third of the boats; being in shallow water and the wind blowing towards the shore the boats touched the bottom and went over. The result, however, was that we had not another case. This proved to me that cholera is in the air, and that the men did not catch it from each other. I have at other times been where cholera was raging, and I do not ever remember hearing any one say that they thought the disease was either infectious or contagious."

THE broad riband of the Persian Order of the Lion and the Sun was on July 25 presented to M. de Lesseps. M. Boital, in making the investiture, spoke of the Shah's admiration for the great enterprises of M. de Lesseps, of the efforts of M. de Lesseps to preserve free access to the Suez Canal for all nations, and of his services to general progress and civilization. M. de Lesseps, in reply, spoke of the Shah's European tour, said that Persia was brought by the Suez Canal to the threshold of Paris, and spoke of the incalculable resources of the Canal as a future means of traffic and commerce. "You may assure His Majesty," he added, "of the tenacity with which I shall strive to keep the Egyptian Bosphorus open to all nations on an equal footing."

AN Exchange Company's telegram dated Paris, July 27, states that "a fire, which has caused great devastation, broke out late last night in the Boulevard Mont Parnasse. It is supposed to have had its origin in the sawmills of M. Gelain, and these were completely destroyed. It quickly spread to the surrounding houses. Most of the inmates were in bed, and to escape death had to fly into the streets only half clad, leaving everything to the flames. Many were surprised in their sleep, and were only rescued by the heroic efforts of the firemen. The scenes were very distressing, and took place amidst great excitement. The fire brigade had mastered the flames at an early hour this morning."

MEMBERS of the Municipality of Shanghai bring down upon themselves terrible threats, if no worse ills, should they happen to displease their constituents. The North China Herald says:—A disgraceful placard has been posted about the streets of the Settlement, advocating the mutilation of an esteemed member of the Municipal Council and the sack of his premises. The following is an accurate translation:—

"It is now upwards of forty years since Westerners arrived from England in China, and during the whole of that time they have never treated the people harshly, but, on the contrary, have loved them like their own children. Now, however, there lives at the corner of a certain wall, one Ho-i-ka (Holliday?) who keeps a foreign Hong called 'I Chi' (Nee-kee), and whose actions are perverse and in defiance of law and order. He oppresses and maltreats the people, stealthily encroaching on the lands of others, and absolutely forbidding shopmen to expose their wares for sale. The Chinese are contemptible in his sight, and there is no fear of our authorities before his eyes; in every way he scrapes and flays the poor; he schemes for selfish gains—and his doings are endless. There is but one course open to us all. It is just to sound the gong with one consent, and, first, to tear down and destroy the Nee-kee Hong; then to take the head of the firm, and hack his flesh into the consistency of mud. This accomplished, the premises of the Municipal Police are to be demolished. His life or ours! Then the resentment of the people will be satisfied. These are not empty words. Published for general information. A common Proclamation by The Public."

MILITARY NEWS.

THE following changes in the reliefs of British Cavalry have been made:—10th Hussars from Lucknow to England; 17th Lancers from Mhow to Lucknow; 6th Dragoons or 7th Dragoon Guards, on arrival, in India to Mhow.

LIEUTENANT USSHER, South Staffordshire, attached to 19th Bengal Lancers, reverts to the Line, and is posted to the 2nd Wiltshire, pending orders from home.

LIEUTENANT F. ST. G. TUCKER, R. A., has been appointed to the 29th Bengal N. I. as a Staff Corps probationer.

SURGEON D. P. MACDONALD, M. D., succeeds to the permanent medical charge of the 11th Bengal Lancers, vice Power.

THE Government of India have sanctioned the removal of the Battery of Field Artillery now stationed at Benares to Morar, for permanent location there.

THE Hon'ble Rivers Thompson, C. S. I., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, has expressed his desire, as Honorary Colonel of the Corps, that the Behar Mounted Rifles should hold a regimental camp at Calcutta during the ensuing cold weather, while the Exhibition is open. January is proposed as being the most suitable month.

NEXT month Surgeon-General Townsend, C.B., practically retires from the service. The appointment of his successor rests with the Supreme Government, but the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is understood, the Pioneer says, to have made a strong recommendation in favour of Dr. Dallas, Inspector-General of Prisons in that Province, who for many years previous to the institution of Surgeons-General may be said to have done the work of the appointment without receiving the honours or the pay. Again, the doctors, who do not always agree, appear unanimous about both the claims and fitness of Dr. Dallas. In a word the Punjab plumps for him.

SEDITIOUS PREACHING AMONGST NATIVE TROOPS.—In our issue of July 26 reference was made to the case of one Sayid Muhammed, a fanatical Mahomedan preacher arrested on a charge of tampering with the troopers of the 6th Bengal Cavalry, at Segowlie. It will be remembered that the Calcutta High Court quashed the commitment on the technical ground that the previous consent of the Government to the prosecution had not been obtained; but the Court added a rider to their judgment to the effect that doubtless the omission would be supplied, and the prosecution be carried out with due regard to the requirements of the law. This was nearly two months ago, but no further action has been taken. We now learn, on the authority of the local Magistrate, that Sayid Muhammed is still at large, but we are unable to say whether he is again preaching sedition among our native soldiers. There has been a great miscarriage of justice; but is it too late to remedy the original mistake of procedure in the Magistrate's Court? The military authorities are bound to take action in the matter; for if Sayid Muhammed escapes punishment, fanatical missionaries will be found preaching sedition in every cantonment in the country.—Pioneer.

COURT-MARTIAL.—At a general court-martial, at Bareilly, on 4th July, Private William Wallace, of the 1st Battalion South Yorkshire Regiment, was arraigned on the following charges:—"Striking in the face Colour Sergeant Henry Sherwood and Colour Sergeant John Grimshaw, of the same battalion, his superior officers, in the execution of their office; (2)—Losing by neglect his clothing, regimental necessaries, and accoutrement; (3)—Striking Private Joseph Harrison, of the same battalion, who was taking the prisoner to the rear. The court found the prisoner guilty of all the charges, and sentenced him to suffer penal servitude for the term of five years.

KEMP AND COMPANY.

THE second ordinary general meeting of shareholders of the above company was held at the company's laboratory, Armenian-lane, yesterday afternoon, Dr. T. Blaney presiding.

The directors' report which was read to the meeting by Mr. Kemp, the general manager, stated:—In presenting their first annual report the directors have to express to the members of the company their satisfaction with the sound condition of the business, and with the marked and progressive improvement which has been one of its features since it was taken over by the company. Some of the items in the profit and loss account now published may appear disproportionately heavy at first sight, but much of the expenditure is incident to this being the first year of the company's existence; the charge, for example, for printing catalogues, advertising, &c., will be considerably reduced, while that for preliminary expenses will not recur at all in future years. The liabilities on the balance sheet of Rs. 88,333-5-4 to Messrs. D. S. Kemp & Co. has since the 30th June been liquidated; and as the directors found that a call of Rs. 25 per share would provide for this and all other present wants of the company, they considered it advisable not to call up the entire balance of captial at once, as contemplated in the prospectus. The company will open during the year a new branch, in a building now in course of erection on Cathedral Hill, and as this and the general expansion of the business shall afford employment for the remaining capital, the directors will make the final call. The balance at credit of profit and loss account, which, as will be seen, amounts to Rs. 42,198-5-11, the directors propose to dispose of in the following manner:—

	Rs.	a.	p.
Dividend of Rs. 15 per share, being at the rate of 13½ per cent. on capital as paid up	30,000	0	0
Deterioration, 10 per cent. on machinery	900	0	0
Ditto, 10 per cent. on furniture	1,336	10	0
General Manager's commission, 10 per cent. on dividend	3,000	0	0
Reserve fund	5,000	0	0
Carry forward	1,911	11	11
	Rs. 42,198	5	11

The directors record with sincere regret the loss by death of their colleague, Mr. James Bapty, appointed at last general meeting, and whom they had elected chairman. A minute expressive of regret and their esteem for the deceased was entered in the Chief minute book and a copy sent to Mrs. Bapty. Mr. Emil Spinner (at present in Europe) was appointed to the vacant place on the board, and Dr. Blaney was elected chairman.

In moving the adoption of the report, the chairman said that the most satisfactory feature in it was that in the first year of the institution of the company the affairs had been most satisfactorily conducted. There were sundry large expenses incurred in taking over the business from the vendors, such as large sums employed in advertising and in preliminary expenses; these together exceeding Rs. 19,000. Had it not been for that great expense, the balance sheet would have been much more favourable than it was. These large expenses, however, had been unavoidable. Advertising had now reached almost a science in the present day, and Mr. Kemp was known to be the prince of advertisers in Western India. The expenses for printing and advertising were not likely to be so large in the ensuing year, and if the business for the coming year was as favourable as the last, the directors would no doubt meet the shareholders with a larger dividend on the next occasion of their meeting together. Most of those present were more or less thoroughly acquainted with this particular business engaged in by the company; and they would, the chairman thought, agree with him in saying that the business was most satisfactorily conducted indeed to have come before them in the present form, and with a balance of Rs. 42,000, which they now had to dispose of at their pleasure. There was no doubt that the business was an extensive and progressive one; it was one of those which served a million, and could not be affected by wars, famine, pestilence, rain, locusts, or cholera or anything of that kind. The gentleman who was at the head of the business, and who had conducted it for a series of years, had made it a most successful business in Western India; and while he presided over its destinies the company had no fear of suffering in any respect.

The resolution was seconded by Dr. Eduljee Nusserwanjee, and carried unanimously.

It was proposed by Mr. Pestonjee Sorabjee Settna, and seconded by Mr. Jamsetjee Bomanjee Pavri, that a dividend of Rs. 15 per share, being at the rate of 13½ per cent. on the capital as paid up for the past year, be paid on and after the 20th instant.

Dr. T. Blaney and Mr. J. Maclaine were elected directors for the ensuing year, and Messrs. Lidbetter and Stead were nominated auditors for the ensuing year.

A vote of thanks to the chairman and general manager terminated the meeting.

JUVENILE SWINDLERS.—The four boys who were charged at the Police Court the other day with obtaining money under false pretences are not, we are informed, signallers belonging to the Telegraph Office, but probationers in the signalling department, and merely attend a branch office during the day for instruction.

EVADING THE OPIUM LICENCE.—Aaron Daniel and his son Joseph Aaron were yesterday charged, at the instance of Soobadar Morar Jeeva, of the Detective Police, before Mr. C. P. Cooper, with selling three pounds of opium, valued at Rs. 60, on the 3rd instant, to one Janbai, a woman, without licence from the Collector of Customs. There being no evidence against the first accused, he was discharged. The son was convicted, and fined Rs. 200.

ESCAPING FROM CUSTODY.—Ellappa Yenkya was yesterday convicted by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee of escaping from the judicial custody of Police Constable No. 1242 E. The prisoner on Monday last was arrested by the police for being drunk and disorderly on the public streets, and, whilst being conveyed to the Girgaum Police Court by P.C. DEATH OF A SOLDIER FROM EXCESSIVE DRINKING.—The adjourned inquest into the circumstances connected with the death of Joseph Kelly, a private of H. M.'s 2nd Lancaster Regiment, who was found lying dead on the reclaimed ground at Back Bay, opposite the English Cemetery at Dabool, on Saturday evening last, was resumed yesterday at the Coroner's bungalow, Clare-road, Byculla. Dr. Sidney Smith, the Coroner's Surgeon, said he was of opinion from the evidence he had heard, and from the post-mortem appearances, that the cause of death was serous apoplexy, due to excessive drinking. The jury found that death had been caused by serous apoplexy, due to excessive drinking.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.—A coroner's inquest was held yesterday at the J. J. Hospital, on the body of Shaik Mahomed Shaik Chand, aged fifteen years. Deceased about 15 days ago, while employed in the Sewree Ballast Pits as a boiler cleaner, got seriously injured by his hand being accidentally caught in the machinery while in motion. He died from the effects of the injuries. A verdict of accidental death was recorded.—Another inquest was held yesterday at the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital, on the body of Meeranee, a mendicant woman, aged fifty-five years. Deceased on the 10th instant was knocked down by a brougham and horse driven by a coachman named Essab Fakeer on Musjid-bunder-road; and after she had fallen the horse trampled on her left foot and caused a wound on it. She died from its effects. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence.

A SERIOUS ROW AT PUNDERPOOR.—We understand that a serious affray took place at Punderpoor last Thursday, when the goddess Davi was carried through the streets in procession. There were upwards of 200 people present, and the affray originated from a dispute arising from nuzzpun. Clubs and sticks were freely used by the combatants, and the result is that several men have been wounded and are now in hospital. Of course there will be an inquiry made shortly.—Poona Observer.

A NATIVE ELOPEMENT CASE.—For the past two days the roads in the vicinity of the Furuskhana and the City Magistrate's Court were thronged with natives, who were anxious to have a glimpse at the Brahmin woman and the Ghisadi. We now learn that both the hero and heroine of this elopement case have been released on bail. The woman seems to be well connected. Every effort is being used to prosecute the case vigorously, so as to get the Ghisadi severely punished. It has been said that Bhagirathibhaee has confessed that she likes Hunmunta Ghisadi better than her husband, and has determined to live with him. The Brahmins in the City were heard to say that the frail woman should have loved one of her own caste instead of a Ghisadi; and the Ghisadi is condemned, not merely because he eloped with a Brahmini woman, but because he has already two wives. The hearing of the case is fixed for Thursday next, and Mr. Baba Gokla has been retained for the prosecution. Some of the wise Brahmins have, however, advised the parties concerned to hush up the matter.—Id.

THE GRAIN NUISANCE AT KURRACHEE.—Mr. Gibbons, City Magistrate of Kurrachee, gave judgment on August 10 in the two cases which had been preferred against Messrs. Ralli Brothers and Messrs. Volkart Brothers by Mr. Finch, under Sec. 278 of the Indian Penal Code, for causing a nuisance and vitiating the air, and convicted them on all points, sentencing each to a fine of Rs. 500. The judgment was very long, reviewing the history of the seed-cleaning nuisances for several years past. Drs. Hunter and Peacock both gave evidence at the hearing of the case as to the injurious effects of the noxious smells. Messrs. Finch, Petton, Finchan, Waller, Strachan, and Randle also gave evidence. This is the first time that any one has been prosecuted here under this section, and the judgment is very important.—Sind Gazette.

DEFAMATION BY A TRADESMAN.

YESTERDAY, at the Fort Police Court, Mr. C. P. Cooper delivered his decision in the case of Mr. Nusserwanjee Merwanjee Patell, agent to the Singer Sewing Machine Company, vs. Mr. H. A. Geyer, in which the defendant stood charged with defamation. The circumstances of the case are too well known to need recapitulation.

The magistrate, after reviewing the evidence in the case at some length, said:—"From the evidence it appears that shortly before and at the time the advertisements complained of appeared, the complainant was advertising in Bombay and up-country his company's sewing machines as 'genuine and original,' and no other person or company, about that time, appears to have been using similar terms in Bombay or up-country in advertising sewing machines. Considering the rivalry between the accused and the Singer Manufacturing Company, and from the evidence, it would appear that the accused was well acquainted with the advertisements of the complainant when he published those advertisements. But a natural consequence for the witnesses on behalf of the prosecution to come to, that the advertisements referred to the complainant and his company. The accused must be taken to intend those effects which naturally arose out of the act done. As to the justification contended for, there is no evidence to prove that the complainant practised any deceit in his attempts at selling his company's machines." For these reasons his worship convicted the accused of defamation, and fined him Rs. 500, awarding Rs. 250 of the fine to the complainant as compensation.

HIGH COURT.—AUGUST 14.

(Before the Hon. Mr. Justice BIRDWOOD.)

MOOLJEE BHOOLCHUND vs. KHOOSHAL GOPALJEE AND OTHERS.

THE Hon'ble Mr. Budroodin, instructed by Messrs. Tyabjee and Dyabhoy, for the plaintiff, said the suit was brought to recover Rs. 3,670, due on an adjusted account between the parties. The defendants had for the last twenty years been carrying on business in Bombay and Cutch. There was no appearance for them; and a decree was passed for the plaintiff for the amount claimed, with interest and costs.

A HINDOO WIDOW'S CLAIM TO MAINTENANCE.

KANKOOBAI vs. PANALAL POONUMCHUND AND ANOTHER.

The plaintiff by her plaint claimed to be absolutely entitled to the whole of the moveable property of her late husband Munilal Poonumchund. At the hearing of the suit she confined her claim to her stridhun (i. e., separate property as a married woman) and her maintenance. Mr. Jardine and Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Tyabjee and Dayabhoy, appeared for the plaintiff; the Hon'ble Mr. Marriott, Mr. Inverarity, Mr. Telang, and Mr. Rivett-Carnac, instructed by Messrs. Macfarlane and Edgelow, appeared for the first defendant; and Mr. Russell and the Hon'ble Mr. Budroodin, instructed by Mr. Skipsey, for the second defendant.

The plaintiff stated in her plaint that her late husband died intestate in Bombay in March, 1880, leaving behind him his widow, his brother, the second defendant, and his half brother, the first defendant. During his lifetime he was joint with his brothers in food, worship, and estate; and the defendants had succeeded to the whole of the joint family estate. He died possessed of cash, jewels, shares, &c., of the value of about Rs. 1,50,000. Shortly after his death the whole of his moveable property was taken possession of by the first defendant, on the pretence of keeping it in safe custody; and it had ever since been retained by him. At the same time, the ornaments forming the stridhun of the plaintiff, of the value of about Rs. 22,285, had been taken possession of and retained by the defendants. The dividends and interest on the shares left by the deceased had been recovered and retained by the defendants. The first defendant, by his written statement of defence, denied that he was joint with his brothers in food, worship, and estate. His father died in insolvent circumstances, and he (first defendant) had paid a portion of his debts out of his own earnings. The jewels and other property mentioned by the plaintiff were pledged with him by the deceased as security for the balance due by him at the foot of an account, which now amounted to Rs. 2,30,000 as due from the deceased. The plaintiff had no stridhun of any greater value than Rs. 500, and the various ornaments mentioned in the plaint were the defendant's property. The second defendant's defence was that the separate property, if any, claimed by the plaintiff was now in the hands of the first defendant, and was amply sufficient to satisfy all claims.

His lordship, in delivering judgment to-day, found that Munilal, the plaintiff's husband, at the time of his death was joint with the defendants in food, worship, and estate; and his lordship mentioned at great length the circumstances of the case which supported this presumption. His lordship held that the plaintiff was entitled to a reasonable maintenance, and awarded her Rs. 200 per month, with such arrears of maintenance as were not barred by limitation. As to the plaintiff's claim for stridhun of the value of Rs. 25,000, his lordship did not consider that her evidence on the point was in any way satisfactory. His lordship held that the list of ornaments in the plaintiff's name in the defendant's books did not establish her right of ownership over the ornaments. Taking all the circumstances and the usages of the family into consideration, his lordship held that the ornaments were never presented to, and did not form the stridhun of, the plaintiff. She had admitted having received ornaments of the value of Rs. 3,000, and his lordship held that to be the amount of the of Nytreghyhaza for manslaughter, and Matej is said to have told him the whole story about the finding of the corpse at Dada. On the 25th inst., the addresses of the Public Prosecutor and of the six counsel for the defence will begin.

NYIREGHYHAZA, July 23.

The President announced this morning that as the witness Kapacz, who was to have been called to-day, had not appeared, certain documents would be read. The Public Prosecutor presented a communication which he had received from the Public Prosecutor at Stein-am-Anger, from which it appeared that Ignaz Klein had in January last year visited that place, and that he had then stated that he could make important revelations with regard to the affair at Eszlar. In consequence of this, the Public Prosecutor instituted an inquiry. It was found that Ignaz Klein had been in Stein-am-Anger in the early spring, and had related to Helgric Krause that he knew who had murdered Esther, but that the time had not yet come to speak about it, and that he would give explanations at the trial. The Public Prosecutor asked to have the documents read. When requested to speak, Klein admitted that he had been in Stein-am-Anger, but he neither remembered when this was, nor that he had said what had been mentioned to any one. He had spoken of the matter to various persons, but he had never said that he knew who murdered Esther.

Then a letter was read from the Sheriff of the county, in which that official gave a detailed account of the life and conduct of Moritz since he had been under his care. Counsellor Eotvos said that he would refer to the letter afterwards; but the boy's father had not been consulted, and his request that his son should be placed under the care of his relations was not taken into consideration. Neither was anything said as to the request made by the father yesterday that the boy should be given over to his uncle. The Public Prosecutor said that the answer of the magistrate to this request had already been communicated to the father.

The witness Kapacz deposed that he had been a year in prison for manslaughter. While there he made in his cell the acquaintance of a Jew whose name he did not know, but he recognized him among the prisoners in Smilovics. The latter here declared positively that he had never even spoken to the witness, with whom he had been only confined one day. The witness stated that this Jew told him in the prison, there being altogether 40 prisoners present, that he was not afraid of punishment, as he had already confessed his crime—namely, that he had towed the body in the water to Dada, and that he had given 50 florins to the raftsmen. Smilovics once more positively denied having spoken a word to this man, whose face he could not even remember. After a few more questions had been answered by the witness, the reading of the documents relating to Moritz was continued.

The reading of the report of the preliminary inquiry was then resumed. At the part relating to the finding of the body, Counsellor Eotvos said that the three experiments made with regard to the rapidity of the current were of no use, and then pointed out that it was contrary to physical laws that if a body were tied to a raft and then cast loose it should arrive at a given point later than the raft, as the body was impelled with greater rapidity than the raft; besides which, the raftsman Czepanics had said that he saw the body only coming down from a distance. The President remarked that Czepanics had said that he saw the body only when it was sucked under the raft. The Public Prosecutor, however, and the counsel for the defence read notes, according to which the raftsman had stated that he had seen the corpse at a distance.

The President then allowed an anonymous letter to be read, received by Sophie, Esther's sister, last year. By this letter the police were advised to dig in Scharf's cellar under the barrel and they would find Esther's body buried there. Counsellor Friedamann said that it was less the contents of the letter than the proceedings of Judge Bary upon it which were of moment, as the Judge had announced that he had believed in the statement contained in the letter, but that on digging nothing was found. After reading some more documents with reference to the finding of the body the sitting was closed.

JULY, 24.

This morning the records of a case of murder which was tried in Austria in 1795 were read in court. In that case certain Jews were accused of killing a boy, by cutting his throat, in order to obtain blood for ritual purposes. The case was brought forward last year in the Hungarian Diet by Herr Onody and Herr Istoczy, when speaking on the Tisza-Essiar affair. The judgment by the High Court of Appeal was given in the year 1795, and acquitted the Jews, as the witnesses for the prosecution had been forced by torture to make their depositions. At the same time criminal proceedings were ordered to be taken against the Judge and Public Prosecutor, who, carried away by bigotry and prejudice, were induced to believe that the blood of the boy was drawn by cutting the jugular vessels, when there was no trace visible of any such wound on the throat of the corpse.

MORITZ-SCHARF'S EVIDENCE REFUSED.

After a short pause, the question whether the boy Moritz should be admitted to take the oath came up for discussion. The Public Prosecutor objected on account of the boy's age, as he had not passed his 16th year, and, in agreement with the rules in civil suits and by the 191st clause of Criminal Procedure, he must be excluded. He pointed out that the lad had insulted his father and abjured his religion, showing thereby such a want of moral and religious feelings that for these reasons alone he ought not to be admitted to take the oath. The counsel for the defence, one after the other, expressed the same opinion, and the Court withdrew to consider the point.

During the time was deliberating a most painful scene was enacted between father and son. Scharf approached his son and warned him to be on his guard, as he was taken away he might be sure [illegible] had protected him hitherto, in [illegible]nt him from betraying those who had [illegible]n how to testify, would poison him. "[illegible]y son," he cried, "for they will give [illegible]g to eat which will kill you. They do [illegible] no longer." This address caused [illegible]ion among the audience, but Moritz [illegible]look at his father. The Public Prose[illegible]e counsel did all they could to pacify [illegible]m in vain. He became more and more [illegible] inveighed against those who had robbed him of his child. When he was at last taken back to his place by the prison warder he begged to be taken away, as he could not look on any longer at such a crime, and preferred to be alone in his prison. He was then led out.

After more than an hour's delay the Court returned, and amid breathless silence the President announced the following decision of the Court:—"Our criminal procedure contains no provision as to the age at which a witness may be admitted to take the oath. The provision made in this respect by the rules of procedure in civil suits cannot be obeyed, as, according to our judicial practice, a witness of from 12 to 16 years of age, if, in the opinion of the Judge, he has the requisite understanding and sense of responsibility, may be admitted to be sworn. The objection cannot be taken into consideration that Moritz Scharf was not made duly aware by the Judge at the preliminary inquiry that he was not obliged to give evidence against his father. Still Moritz Scharf cannot be admitted to the oath, as his depositions in the Court against his father and his co-religionists show such hatred and contempt for them that these depositions, especially if taken in connexion with his unripe age and his moral and religious feelings, must excite serious doubts as to the impartiality of his evidence. He cannot, moreover, be admitted to the oath, because his depositions exhibit great contradictions with regard to important points, especially as to the time when he called Esther to the house, as to the colour of the handkerchief in her hand, as to the position of the body during the commission of the crime, and even about the way in which the deed was done. With regard to the colour of the handkerchief, undeniable facts have shown the falseness of his statement. On all these grounds the Court refuses to admit him to take the oath."

The President then declared the taking of evidence closed.

The judgment given in the Perje case, which was read in Court yesterday, is of considerable interest. It is directed "to His Imperial and Royal Apostolic Majesty's Government of the Grand Principality of Transylvania," and is dated Dec. 19, 1793. It refers to the criminal proceedings taken by the Royal Public Prosecutor against Jacob David, Salomon Abraham, his wife Sarah Abraham, and Jacob and Frantz Markovics, of whom the last was a Jew of Pele, while the others lived at Perje, for the murder of a Christian boy, Andreas Tekacs. The case was first tried by the district tribunal of the county of Szolnok, then in the Royal Court, and, lastly, on appeal, was referred to the Royal Government. The judgment continues:—"The depositions taken in the trials have been examined. The result has been that the verdict given at the inquest on the body is found to have been falsified by the sheriff of the county, Buedoeskuti. Contradictory evidence was given by the witnesses. The doctors examined at the inquest had not the facts necessary for arriving at the truth, so that they do not deserve any credit. "The statements of the witnesses called to prove the charges have, moreover, been withdrawn by them, and have therefore entirely lost their force as evidence. The seventh witness, Michael Koteles stated that at former examinations he had twice received 30 blows with a stick from the county officials because he would not answer the questions put to him in the way they wished. This statement is confirmed by other depositions. The wife of the Jew Salomon Abraham also deposed that her former evidence had been extorted by blows and threats, which statement is confirmed by other depositions. And at the inquiry instituted by the Government Commissioner the boy of six years, who testified against the prisoners, and who is by his age disqualified from giving evidence, withdrew his evidence. Thus the depositions are insufficient to establish the crime imputed to the accused, and deserve no belief on the part of the Court. Besides, the verdict given at the inquest, on which, in consequence of prejudices and of a baseless superstition, a trial the results of which have been falsified in all respects was based, contains palpable contradictions as to the manner and circumstances in which the murder was committed. According to this finding the alleged crime was perpetrated by cutting the large artery of the throat, without there being found any trace of a lesion of the outer skin. It is, therefore, rejected. The deposition of the Jewess Sarah Abraham, which was extorted by blows, is in flagrant contradiction to the result of an examination of the body. The sentences passed by the two first Courts are therefore quashed, and the accused Jews are acquitted of the charge of murder imputed to them. Criminal proceedings are to be taken against the Sheriff Buedoeskuti and the other county officials who have conducted the inquiry, Michael Koteles, Sarah Abraham, and the county physician Fuiki, who have in the course of this trial acted against the law and their official duty or contrary to their oath.—Vienna, November 23, 1795.—Count Samuel Teleki, Johann Kronenthal."—Times' telegrams.

(BASS'S ALE AND GUINNESS'S STOUT.)

READ BROTHERS, of London, request purchasers of their Bott ed Ale and Stout to ask for "THE DOG'S HEAD BRAND," because another and totally distinct Bottler uses the figure of a Bull Dog, and thus two bottlings of entirely different character may both be called "BULL DOG."

The original "Bull Dog" mark is the registered property of READ BROTHERS, and their bottling still often goes by that name, but the title of "DOG'S HEAD BRAND" is theirs exclusively, and is the only one that is protected by the Injunction of the Lords Justices of England.
